ABOUT LOCAL EDITION

Time Warner Cable's Local Edition is a five-minute show airing on CNN Headline News that provides news and information from people making a difference in Southern California.

"Time Warner Cable Local Edition is a lively public affairs program that really allows me to keep in touch with my constituents on what's happening in Washington."

U.S. Congressman Ed Royce

Elected officials, community leaders and educators connect viewers to the important issues, events and organizations that are shaping our community.

"Local Edition is a great way for me to communicate with my constituents. Being in Sacramento most of the week, it's important that I have a reliable system to reach out to the citizens of the 35th Senate District. It only takes a few minutes of my time and enables me to talk about important issues with a wide group of people. I highly recommend it"

California State Senator Tom Harman

Airing in nearly 2 million homes in five Southern California counties (Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura), Local Edition can be seen daily on CNN Headline News at :24 and :54 past the hour.

In addition, highlighted Local Edition segments can also be through Local OnDemand, Time Warner Cable's free video-on-demand service that lets customers start, rewind, fast-forward and pause programming using their remote control.

"Local Edition is a very valuable vehicle to educate and inform the general public as to the specific affairs as to what's going on politically both locally and state wide. I'm very happy to participate with Time Warner Cable so we can make sure that we're staying in touch with our residents and keeping them aware of what's impacting our State."

California State Assemblymember Kevin De Leon

"It's always a pleasure for me to provide Local Edition interviews because my constituents tell me all of the time that they watch them. It's a way for them to find out what I'm doing which helps keep them aware of what's going on. You know with so many elected officials in this area, Local Edition provides each of us much valuable coverage."

Speaker of the California State Assembly Karen Bass
